REAP Specialty Training Bursary Program

Policies and Guidelines

OVERVIEW

The Specialty Training Bursary Program provides funding to rurally-bound medical specialty residents or rural physicians who are completing focused postgraduate training that will lead to certification with the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada. A one-year return of service requirement is attached to each year of funding received¹. Preference will be given to specialties identified as being “in need” in rural communities in BC.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

Residents or rural physicians are eligible to apply if they:

- are in the final two years of a Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada residency program and;
- have been accepted to a specialty position by a hospital and health authority included in the RSA pending completion of the residency program.
- Bursary funding is only available while the applicant is pursuing the residency program.

AWARD DETAILS

Each successful applicant may be eligible for up to two years of bursary funding (at $25,000/annum) to a maximum of $50,000. Reapplication is required to be considered for the second year of funding and all eligibility requirements must be met at the time of reapplication.

Canada Customs and Revenue consider bursary funds taxable income.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

The REAP Specialty Training Bursary application package must be submitted along with all the required supporting documents by 4:30pm on the application deadline. Applications must be submitted in one PDF file including all supporting documents. Incomplete applications and applications received after the deadline will not be considered.

Your application package must include:

1. A completed application form;
2. A resume of work, academic and community experience including an outline of studies including special courses or training;
3. A letter of support from your current Residency Program Director that confirms that you are in good standing in the training program and are expected to complete training on schedule.
4. A letter of employment, endorsed by the Health Authority, to a position in a specialty department of a hospital included in the RSA.
5. A confirmation that you have accepted the offer of employment.

APPLICATION DEADLINE

The application deadline is the last business day of June. Applications will be accepted for one month prior to the application deadline. Please do not submit your application prior this this time period.

Please submit your application to:

REAP.Students@ubc.ca

¹ Full time is defined as practicing a minimum of nine months of the year and billing greater than $50,000 per year (fee-for-service and alternate payments).

SELECTION PROCESS

The REAP Directors will review and select the successful candidates. Following selection, successful applicants will be notified by email or telephone. The REAP office will distribute copies of the bursary agreement to successful applicants. These must be signed and returned to the REAP office before the payment can be made. A signed copy will be returned to the bursary recipient for his/her records.

RETURN-OF-SERVICE COMMITMENT

Upon completion of the medical training as specified in the bursary agreement, physicians are required to provide a specified period of service in rural British Columbia as stipulated in their bursary agreement. Total return-of-service time is calculated based on the following:

- One year (12 months) of service in a RSA designated rural community for each year of funding.

Applicants must notify the REAP program office of their practice location and the date they intend to commence Practice. This will enable accurate detailing of credit for the return-of-service commitment.

Upon completing the necessary requirements to practice in their area of specialty, physicians will be provided a 90-day period in which to establish medical practice and full-time residency in the RSA community in which they have a position.

DEFERMENTS

If a bursary recipient wishes to seek permission to defer his/her service commitment, a request must be submitted in writing to the Rural JSC, providing full details, at least 6 months prior to the commencement of the proposed deferment. Deferments would be considered for issues such as the need for additional training, serious family illness, death or maternity.

All requests for deferrals will be adjudicated by the JSC and these decisions will be communicated, in writing, to the bursary recipient.

INABILITY TO ESTABLISH PRACTICE

In the event that the physician is, through no fault of his/her own, unable to establish practice arrangements as required by the bursary agreement, but has demonstrated due diligence in attempting to do so to the satisfaction of the JSC, the physician may apply, in writing, to the JSC to be released from their service and repayment commitments.

DEFAULT PROVISIONS

Physicians who fail to complete their service commitment mid-term, will be required to repay a proportionate percentage of their bursary funds to the time remaining. For example, if the service commitment ends following one year of service, the resident must repay one year or $25,000. The terms will be specified in the recipient's promissory note (included with the contract). Failure to complete the residency program for academic reasons will necessitate repayment of all bursary funds.

MONITORING AND VERIFICATION OF SERVICE

Once a physician has set up practice in an approved community, a quarterly follow-up will be made. This follow-up procedure is made through the REAP office.

RELOCATION APPEALS MECHANISM

Physicians wishing to move to another RSA community during the period of their return-of-service contract may write to the JSC indicating their desire to move. Approvals will be made at the discretion of the JSC.
