

The Rural Voices Gathering

November 20 & 27, 2024

Hosted by

The Rural Voices Gathering is an opportunity for rural, remote, First Nations and Métis communities to have their voices amplified relative to:

- The Rural and Remote Health Strategy being developed by the BC Ministry of Health
- Transportation for health services
- Education and training for health care providers in rural communities
- Hybrid health care including peer-to-peer virtual support, in-person and virtual patient consultations

Register for more info

Facilitator Participation

RCCbc is looking for individuals interested in facilitating at the two-part virtual gathering and/or at in-person community discussions held between the two virtual sessions. Facilitators will be responsible for bringing together community groups (including, but not limited to, new or existing groups who share geography, interests, practice, circumstances and/or objectives).

In-person facilitator training will be held in Vancouver, with multiple dates available ahead of the Gathering.

Travel and expenses will be covered by RCCbc according to the reimbursement schedule, and an honorarium will be provided for participating in training and for time spent facilitating dialogue.

Training sessions will cover:

- Appreciative inquiry framework
- Deliberative Dialogue
- Breathing and Weaving
- Virtual facilitation skills (inc. using Zoom and automated meeting notes)
- Group management
- Bringing together a group with perspectives from the Pentagonam Partnership Plus